

PERFORMA 09

VISUAL ART PERFORMANCE BIENNIAL NOVEMBER 1 – 22, 2009

THE LUST WEEKEND - NOVEMBER 7-8 - AS PART OF PERFORMA 09

A Weekend of Performances, Events, Panels and Exhibitions
Inspired by the Futurist Writer and Dancer Valentine De Saint-Point

At select non-profits and galleries in the East Village and Lower East Side

Avant-garde dances, sensual songs, mysterious avatars, and intimate confessions— Performa is delighted to present The Lust Weekend, a two-day program of performances, talks, and special events that explore the relationships between sex, gender, art, and politics. The Lust Weekend was inspired by the provocative French writer and dancer Valentine de Saint-Point, one of the few female Futurists, author of the “Manifesto of the Futurist Woman” (1912) and the “Manifesto of Lust” (1913), and the only Futurist to perform in New York City, at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1917.
